15,541,178 meals were provided through our food distribution and FoodShare Outreach efforts.

65% of the food we distributed was considered food to encourage a healthy lifestyle.

44,566 hours of work were performed by volunteers.

$4,602,487 in local economic activity was generated as a result of our FoodShare Outreach efforts.

188,935 miles were driven by our fleet of 10 trucks delivering food to our partner agencies and picking up food from generous donors.

301 partner agencies and programs received or distributed food.
It is challenging to summarize an entire year in just a few paragraphs, both in the things that occurred and the thoughts we have about them. It was a year of aspiration and forward momentum that included the launch of a new 5-year strategic plan, new ways to connect with the community through our values, centering on what we believe and who we are in our community, and how we want to show up through collaboration, communication, and support.

It was also a year of stark realities. While the grip of the pandemic eased up a bit, its longer-term negative economic impacts showed up in our operation in many ways but, more profoundly, for those in our community we are here to support.

Through it all was an unwavering commitment and signs of resilience. From our supporters of all types (financial, volunteers, media partners, etc.), our amazing network of partner agencies and programs, and our dedicated staff, our focus on the mission remained steadfast. We continued to find new ways to support those facing hunger, invested in new programs designed to provide more nutritious food to our community, and reaffirmed our dedication to advancing the principles of equity, diversity, and inclusion through our work.

FY22 continued to show what we can do to ensure that everyone has enough nutritious food to thrive when we work together. Thanks to supporters like you, we are making tremendous strides toward our goals of nutrition security and food equity for everyone. Thank you!
